The Carmel Pine Cone

Carmel City Council

Can The Pine Cone Survive?

BY ALLMAN COOK

During this first six weeks as the new Pine Cone publisher, the problems have started to reveal themselves to me. There are creaks and groans experienced as we endeavor to give the weekly newspaper this community wants.

The Pine Cone has reeled under several ownership changes. Financially, it has become a loser. Competition has sensed an opportunity and now tries to close in. From its low rent area, a Carmel Valley non-union printer has made repeated efforts to invade, mostly through occasional mass "give-aways" at the post office.

The big Monterey city daily makes repeated drives on Carmel businessmen for advertising. The latest is its effort to represent the Carmel community with a big 50th anniversary issue. We shall offer a 50th anniversary issue, too, at the proper time. After all the Pine Cone has been representing this community for nearly 52 years.

So Mr. Businessman, will you please save some of that ad budget money for your Pine Cone?

Incidentally, neither of the two aforementioned printing houses even have a business license from Carmel.

The Carmel Pine Cone does not object. We say three cheers for the American way of doing business.

Business thrives on competition. Recently, in an effort to economize, I accepted Councilman Gunnar Norberg's offer to report on council meetings without a pay check. The resentment resulting from this was such that we are now looking for another council reporter. Councilman Norberg did do an excellent job of reporting.

Oh yes, there are other problems! You should see a few of the local typographical union's requests for our employees within their jurisdiction, when our present contract runs out.

I do feel a bit battered but once again I say three cheers for the American way of doing business.

Now, I want to see the Carmel Pine Cone continue to serve and enlarge its services to this community. We now have an excellent team of printers who want to serve. The office, editorial, reporting, distribution and advertising staff are eager and working hard to serve. We are grateful for the solid core of friends we have and want to serve them better and better.

Do you want the Carmel Pine Cone to survive? You can tell us by letting us in on your news items and article potentials. We will try to turn them up, too. You can tell us by letting us know when we overlook a service to you. You can tell us by letting us supply some of your printing needs — letterheads, envelopes, announcements, programs, etc. You can tell us by letting the Pine Cone handle your community advertising. You can tell us by buying this paper.

We do want to serve you. Do you want us?

I hope I can write another article soon saying that your answer has been "yes."

MAYOR STEPHEN A. GRANT

Bair Promises School District Balanced Budget

BY GUNNAR NORBERG

Three key actions — none passed unanimously — were believed to have set a reasonably sound fiscal course for the Carmel Unified School District to sail in the coming 1966-67 school year — in view of its reduced resources because of the recent failure of the override tax measure at the polls.

At the midpoint in last night's long session, Superintendent Medill Blair ventured the prognosis that — with stands then being taken by the school board — he would be able to present, at a future session, a balanced budget. Since the board, at last month's sessions had been able to effect a net reduction in proposed 1966-67 expenditures of only some $31,300, Bair's forecast, therefore, implied that he could see savings in various budget categories, of some $96,514, since the deficit predicted on the basis of the original tentative budget made last February, totaled $127,814.

CUT PENNIES, NICKELS, DIMES

While the precise dollar effect of the board's actions was not detailed during the long, and sometimes rambling discussion of both relevant and occasionally irrelevant matters, Bair offered the view that "by cutting pennies, nickels, and dimes here and

Next Explorarama Presentation Will Be Film Featuring Nepal

"Nepal, Mystery of the Himalayas" a new color travel-adventure film will have its premiere showing at 8:15 p.m. on May 20 at Sunset Center auditorium.

The feature-length film will be narrated in person by George Lourbis, director of the Explorers Club of San Francisco. The film, which has recorded stereophonic musical backgrounds, has been hailed as the most exciting travel-adventure film ever made.

Nepal, until recently, was more inaccessible and difficult to reach than Lhasa in Tibet. The royal family was virtually held prisoner in its own palace. Nepal is no longer "forbidden", but it is still off the beaten path.

Highlights of this prize-winning film include the mystery of Siva God of Annihilation; strange nomads of the Himalayas; the birthplace of Buddha; Katmandu, trade route to Tibet; the Indra Jatra Festival, where a living goddess is borne through the streets on a golden coach and heralded by thousands of Nepalese; the ascent of a 24,000-foot unclimbed mountain; an unusual Hindu festival, attended by the King and Queen of Nepal; a search for the Abominable Snowman of the Himalayas; monasteries high in the mountains and forbidden temples; Mt. Everest and Annapurna.

The film is being presented by the Explorers Club of San Francisco with proceeds used to help provide annual scholarships to young science students throughout the country. Tickets at $1.75 are now available at Central Box Office.

On Saturday, members of the Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society will observe birds at Hastings Natural History Reservation in Carmel Valley which belongs to the University of California. Meeting place will be the Safeway parking lot at Carmel Rancho—the time, 9 a.m. Those planning to attend are asked to bring lunch with them.

On May 18, the society's Bird-A-Month group will meet at the home of Miss Gwendolyn DeForest on Fourth Street at Perry Newberry Way. Perching birds usually found in this area will be discussed.

shop Series. Offered free to the public, workshops act as showcases for the often "experimental" work of young actors and directors at the theatre. Jean-Paul Sartre's existential drama, "No Exit," will be performed for the last time at 7:30 p.m.

Before the summer White Oaks season opens on June 23, the theatre will act as show place for two performances of "Cavalleria Rusticana" presented by the Monterey Peninsula Opera Workshop, founded and directed by Carmel's Nancy Ness Bowman. Dates for the two presentations are May 22 at 8:30 p.m. and May 23 at 2:30 p.m.

Going into the summer, musical productions slated for the Carmel Valley theatre include "Carousel," "Once Upon A Mattress," "Stop the World, I Want to Get Off," and "Cosi Fan Tutte." Season tickets are now on sale at the theatre and at Central Box Office.

Noel Coward's 'Hay Fever' Opens At Studio Theatre Friday Evening

Veteran players and some new faces mark the opening tomorrow night of Noel Coward's comedy, "Hay Fever", at the Studio Theatre-Restaurant.

Anita Tonn returns to the Studio stage to play the starring role of Judith, perhaps one of the most delightful and comic roles Noel Coward has created for an actress.

Playing her husband-author David, who is writing a novel called "The Sinful Woman," is Roy Baxter, a graduate of the Pasadena Playhouse.

Layne Littlepage, an actress of considerable depth and range, portrays the sultry and provocative role of Myra. She is currently enrolled as a drama student at MPC.

Terry Poland plays the role of the unruly son, Simon. He gained theatre experience in local productions and at MPC. Last summer he performed at the Perry-Mansfield School of the Theatre in Steamboat Springs, Colorado.

Shawn Guild, a talented young comedienne, enacts the role of the hot-tempered and rude daughter, Sorel.

Winston Sargent is the suave and debonair, Richard.

Kay Carlson plays the wild maid, Clara.

Ruth Dippell, the lady with the red hair who was practically a fixture in the lobby of the Del Monte Lodge for years, dropped into the Pine Cone office Saturday. She said she had a strong urge to tell us that President Johnson will have to make a major decision in June relative to a peace settlement in Viet Nam. She said it will involve a division of the country in a similar manner to the Korean peace.

The most photographed man in Carmel last weekend was Dr. Eric Berne. Practically everywhere the local psychiatrist, who is fast becoming an internationally known author, went, he was followed by a photographer and writer from a national picture magazine. In Dr. Berne's entourage, too, were the men who will turn his book, "Games People Play," into a musical.

Observing life in Carmel as lived by Dr. Berne included, for these men, watching him run a race with his 14-year-old son, Rick, on the River Beach, and seeing him take a dip in the ocean.

"It's about 51 degrees," observed Dr. Berne as he emerged after his swim and a quick look at the ocean floor through his face mask. The photographer was careful to get a picture of the noted author surfacing with a whale-like "blow" through his snorkel.

Dr. Berne's book has beaten all previous records for non-fiction on the bestseller list in this country: even outsold "Lady Chatterly's Lover." An English edition was recently released and resulted in a full-page review in the London Times. England's Daily Mirror stated in its review that the phenomenal success of this book, written as a textbook on transactional analysis, is that it strikes "so near to the truth about the way people live."

And Dr. Berne has another textbook about to be released by his publishers. He is sure that this volume won't "surprise" him as did "Games People Play."

There's a new "Green thumb" idea expressed on the fence of a house called "Thank Heaven" on Scenic Drive south of Martin Way. Outlined in living variegated ivy is 1966 a full yard high. What this pine nut is wondering is will there be a big 196 next year with a young 7, or will the inventive gardeners begin again each calendar year?

Incidentally, the small hot pink-lavender flowered mesembryanthemum along Scenic just now is forming brilliant carpets.

Architect Will Shaw has a new definition after attending a conference on leisure at Stanford University. "Only the very rich and the very poor have leisure, the middle class has recreation," he says.

I am indebted to Shelburn Robinson for the clipping from the Tucson Daily Star printed below. He was in Fort Huachuca with Mrs. Robinson visiting their daughter, Robin, when he discovered it.

THE ARIZONA LURE—Hadley Hicks, the former Bisbee High three-sport star, was a highly-successful prep coach in Carmel, Calif.

His Carmel football team was undefeated last season and his overall record as a head coach was an amazing 31-4. But Hadley quit Carmel to become jayvee football coach and speech teacher at Prescott High.

"I just had to get back to Arizona," he explains. "It meant a cut in salary and position, but I had all I could take of the hustle and bustle of California."

(And I thought we were famous for our easy "Carmel way of life." Oh well! If the hustle and bustle here gets us we know where we can go.)

One of Mayor Steve Grant's first official duties was to attend the opening of the Carmel Little League season. "The Mayor did a well pitch" is the report of his mayoral activity on this occasion published in the Carmel Examiner. And, if you don't already know it, this paper is written, edited and published by the Mayor's young son, Patrick, aged eight. I notice it carries no city council news so the Mayor can't be accused of "conflict of interest" reporting.

Swimming Show Sunday Afternoon In Pebble Beach

Appearing at the Beach Club this Sunday at 3:00 p.m. will be members of the Cypress Swim Club in a special exhibition of synchronized swimming.

The performance, originally scheduled for last weekend, had to be postponed because of the foggy weather which drove spectators inside. The program featuring the nationally recognized synchronized swimming club in a 45-minute performance includes many of their award-winning routines.

The Cypress Swim Club is composed of local girls from nine to 16 years of age. In last year's competitive season, the club took a total of one gold, 18 silver, and 10 bronze medals in addition to many ribbons from Pacific Association and National AAU competition.

Also seen in the program this Sunday will be Donn Squire, coach of the Cypress Swim Club and Men's National AAU solo champion. Mr. Squire will perform "Death of a Swan," the routine which won him the national title, and a duet entitled, "The Sultan's Favorites," with Miss Carol Moore of Salinas, a 1957 runner-up in Junior National Duet Competition.

MPC Lecture Series Terminates May 20

Dr. Raymond E. Wolfinger, assistant professor in the Stanford University department of political science, will wind up the Spring, 1966 evening lecture series at Monterey Peninsula College on May 20 with an address on "The Origins and Impact of the Radical Right."

Speaking at 8 p.m. in the Armory, Dr. Wolfinger is expected to summarize and interpret the remarks of the three speakers who preceded him in the "Significance of the Far Right" series. They were editor-author Carey McWilliams, author Niven Busch and Birch Society representative Reed Benson.

Free tickets will be available at the college from tomorrow or may be obtained by mail from the MPC Evening Dean's Office when requests are accompanied by stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

RECEIVES AWARD

J. H. Burdis of Carmel is among those who received service awards from Pacific Gas and Electric Company May 5 at a dinner at the Mark Thomas Inn. Thomas E. Riddle, district manager, presented Mr. Burdis with an emblem of recognition for 20 years' employment with the company.

BING IS A WINNER

Bing Crosby teamed with Ken Walsh of San Rafael won the 11th annual Cypress Point Invitational Golf Tournament last Friday with the best ball 10 up score for the 36-hole event.

Mr. Crosby, who lives in Hillsborough, will be back again on the Peninsula for another golfing event in January, the annual "clambake" he sponsors every year. The 26th Bing Crosby National Pro-Amateur Golf Tournament dates are January 19-22. Play will be over Pebble Beach, Monterey Peninsula Country Club and Cypress Point courses. The latter is the course which Bing played as a winner last week.

Salvation Army Band From San Francisco Coming To Peninsula

This week has been declared Salvation Army week on the Peninsula and begins the Army's second century of service in 69 countries. However, the Army has been operating directly on the Peninsula only since November, 1965. Since that date they have given direct service and assistance to 1,625 individuals. Of this number 75 percent are residents of the Peninsula. Its services are given to all regardless of race, color or national background.

"As we move into our second century of service we would pledge to this community our many services which are offered 365 days a year, and are given to those that are least able to help themselves, those who are out of the mainstream of the American life as most of us know it," stated Captain Van Cleef, Peninsula commanding officer.

In connection with Salvation Army Week, there will be several local events. The Salvation Army San Francisco Citadel Band will be here this weekend. An evening concert will be presented by the band on Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the Monterey Presbyterian Church. Featured with the band will be the Monterey Methodist Choir and the Presbyterian Quartet. On Sunday the band will do two services at the Fort Ord Post Chapel and then an outdoor concert at Custom House Plaza in Monterey at 3 p.m. The public is invited to attend any or all of these events.

Stolen Car Crash Results In Death Of Teenage Youth

What started out Saturday evening as a joy ride by two Sacramento youths who had been to the Laguna Seca road races ended in death for Michael Hartley, 15, at Community Hospital Monday night. Cause of death, according to the coroner's office, was a broken neck. The Hartley boy, reportedly the driver of a sports car the pair stole Saturday from its parking place on Monte Verde Street between Eighth and Ninth, also sustained skull fractures when the vehicle crashed at the intersection of Eleventh and Monte Verde.

According to Carmel Police Sergeant Bob Fischer's report, the small car, traveling at speeds from 50 to an estimated 70 miles per hour, collided with another auto, bounced off a hydrant and smashed into a tree. Don Barnett, 16, the other occupant, suffered a fractured collarbone and was released Monday from Community Hospital after treatment. Marie Ann Berry of Palo Alto, driver of the second car, received minor injuries but her two children were unhurt.

All injured persons were taken to the hospital in the Red Cross ambulance operated by members of the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department.

The stolen auto, owned by Jack D. Lowry of Carmel, was first spotted by police at 10:13 p.m. Saturday as it was speeding north on Camino Real near Santa Lucia. Sergeant Fischer and officer Frank Sutherland, on patrol, pursued the two youths, using siren and red light, to the scene of the accident.

The boys were reported to have come to the Peninsula for the weekend with the parents of Don Barnett, who stated to police that he and his companion had noticed the Lowry car parked with the keys in the ignition. Mr. Lowry said he did not leave the keys in his car.

COSMOS LUNCHEON

There will be a luncheon meeting of the Cosmos Club in San Souci Restaurant Tuesday, May 17 at 12:00 noon. Ted Duffy from the Seven Seas Skin Diving Center will be the speaker. His subject is Twenty Thousand Divers Under The Sea. This is a program you will not want to miss. The club's newest member is Victor P. Strite of Carmel. He is a retired manufacturer's representative who recently moved here from New York.

REAGAN HERE TODAY

Ronald Reagan, Republican candidate for Governor of California, was scheduled to address members of Republican women's clubs in the Salinas area at a luncheon today, also to answer questions from students and the public at Monterey Peninsula College this afternoon. After leaving the Peninsula, Mr. Reagan was to proceed to the Cow Palace in San Francisco for a major address and political rally.

GARDEN AND FLOWER SHOW IN VALLEY

The Sixth Annual Carmel Valley Garden and Flower Show, sponsored by the Carmel Valley Garden Association, will be held at Tularcitos School on Sunday from 1 to 7:30 p.m. Amateur gardeners will exhibit in 32 subdivisions of the two classes, potted plants and cut flowers, and an assortment of plants and cuttings will be offered for sale.

At Red Cross Convention

Six official representatives of the Carmel chapter of the American Red Cross have been in San Diego this week to attend the organization's national convention which opened Sunday. They are Carl Bosholt, local chairman, and voting delegate; Gus Johnson, Margee Tanous, both members of the board of directors; and Dorothy James; executive secretary. "Just going along for the ride" were Mrs. Bosholt, Mrs. Johnson, and Leo Tanous.

Miss Helen Heavey arrived in San Diego before the others in order to attend a meeting of the Western area advisory committee.

Unsuspected Talents Revealed

With no official reception possible for Henri Temianka and the musicians of the California Chamber Symphony who appeared here in concert recently, members and friends of the Carmel Arts Commission rallied to provide a sumptuous repast at an informal party for the group.

Mosaic artist Geza St. Galy and painter Gene Elmore, particularly, astonished everyone with culinary delicacies in the salad line. Mr. Elmore's avocado in gelatin, according to all reports, was a delight to the eye as well as the palate and Mr. St. Galy's crab in aspic, served with delicious homemade mayonnaise, was a spectacular success. Mrs. Fritz (Marjorie) Wurzmann took "plano time" to bake two large, delicious cakes. She and Mrs. Madeleine Powers Leoni provided tomato and fruit salads; Mrs. Barbara West, portraitist and theatre director, brought dozens of hot buttered rolls. Contributions from others who came to renew their acquaintance with Mr. Temianka made the occasion a most delightful one.

Checked Southern Colleges

Mrs. Ray Draper and her daughter Susie, who will graduate from Carmel High School in June, spent four days in Southern California last week to do a little "college shopping" of the smaller institutions. They stopped in Santa Barbara, later stayed with friends in Pinedale and visited Whittier College, among others.

Dr. Brownell Was East

Dr. Ray Brownell returned this week from a trip to New York, where he attended an orthodontic conference, and to Calumet, Michigan, where he spent a week with his daughter and son-in-law, Sue and Norman "Mac" MacLean and their family. Sue, who grew up in Carmel, and her husband are the parents of four children ranging in age from 10 to 22. (The Pine Cone wonders how many readers can remember Sue's spectacular portrayal of Queen Elizabeth at a huge May Day festival at Sunset School—the former Madeleine Curry directed the elaborate pageant.)

Steven Gann Weds Miss Tainter

With 30 fellow members of the Green Berets standing in attendance, PFC Steven Anthony Gann, Special Forces, Airborne, was married May 5 to Miss Sydney Tainter in the Special Forces Kennedy Chapel at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, where Steven is stationed with the Special Forces personnel office.

His bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Eugene G. Tainter of Sacramento, who flew to North Carolina for the wedding.

Major Frederick Logan, chaplain, Special Forces, performed the afternoon ceremony in the chapel, which was adorned with orchids from the greenhouse of the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Eleanor Michaud Gann of Pebble Beach. The bride also carried a bouquet of these orchids and received a ring that had belonged to Steve's grandmother, the late Caroline Gann of Pebble Beach. Sergeant Michael Dunham of Carmel served as best man.

The young couple have taken an apartment in nearby Fayetteville and look forward to a furlough in late summer, when they expect to visit here with the bridegroom's mother and grandmother, Mrs. Edward Michaud.

The new Mrs. Gann is a graduate of Miss Hamlin's in San Francisco and of Stephens College in Missouri. Prior to her marriage, she was a stewardess with Delta Airlines, based in New Orleans.

Steven, the son of author Ernest K. Gann, is a graduate of Carmel High School. He earned his degree in cultural anthropology at the University of San Francisco and was doing graduate work in this field at the time he entered the service. He is the brother of George K. Gann II, who is currently serving with the Merchant Marine. Their sister, and Steve's twin, is Mrs. Samuel E. Fry, whose husband is a staff member of the U. S. Department of State. The Frys are scheduled to leave in midsummer for Moscow, where Mr. Fry will serve as second under-secretary in the U. S. Embassy.

John Farr Is A New Officer

John Farr, director of music in the Carmel schools, was installed as the new president of the coast counties section of the California Music Educators at a dinner meeting of the organization on Tuesday at the Mission Ranch. The CME is affiliated with the Music Educators National Conference.

Entertained Young Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Weiner were hosts at a barbecue Saturday at their Carmel Knolls home to ten eighth-grade classmates of their daughter, Virginia. The young ladies, members of the Camp Fire Girls at the California School for the Deaf in Berkeley, were on an excursion to the Peninsula with their leaders, Miss Kathie Mangan and Miss Susan Hicks. While here, the group enjoyed trips to the beach and a production at the First Theater in Monterey.

A Bride For Thomas Layton

At home in Los Angeles are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cleaver Layton, who were married before a small group of family members at Pasadena Presbyterian Church on April 23. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Emma Rose Layton of Carmel and Mr. Walter Bateman Layton of Monterey.

The bride, a daughter of Mrs. Alice T. Cullinane of Pasadena and John J. Cullinane of Llano, was attended by her sister, Miss Peggy Cullinane.

David L. Sibbet served as best man and the ushers were Steven Folte Layton, of Carmel, the bridegroom's brother, and the bride's brother, Michael Cullinane of Pasadena.

Mrs. Layton was accompanied to her son's wedding by her daughters, Carolyn, a student at Santa Catalina School, and Patricia, who is enrolled at San Jose State College.

The newlyweds are co-workers at an employment agency in Los Angeles, where Tom is sales and public relations manager while working toward an M.B.A. degree at Los Angeles State College. He is a graduate of Occidental College in philosophy and political science. The new Mrs. Layton earned her B. A. degree in political science at Occidental College and her master's at Los Angeles State College.

Celebrated In San Juan

A number of Carmel Mexicans make a practice of celebrating some of the better known Mexican holidays, so what could be better than an excursion to San Juan Bautista for el Cinco de Mayo last Thursday? Mrs. Barbara Dickson, Mrs. Charles O'Gara, Mrs. Roy Woods and Mrs. F. Robert Smith, all in appropriately colorful garb, drove over to the charming little town where they were joined for lunch by former Carmelite Pauline Lushbaugh and Faye Dixon. The latter are the owners of thriving shops in San Juan, Pauline's being "Apparels of Pauline" and Faye's "The Party Line."

An hilarious atmosphere seems to have prevailed during the expedition, set off, no doubt, by Lili Smith's Cinco de Mayo mood. With the group seated in an attractive Mexican cantina, she attempted to wish the bartender a happy holiday in Spanish, only to be met with the gentleman's bewildered look. Turned out he was an Arab and hadn't the faintest notion of what she was saying, of course.

Nancy Porter Is A Bride

Honeymooning in Hawaii are Mr. and Mrs. Lin Gary Eldridge, the former Nancy Porter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Franklin Porter of Carmel Valley. The couple exchanged wedding vows on April 30 in an afternoon ceremony performed by the Reverend Peter Farmer at All Saints' Episcopal Church.

The bride's traditional gown was of peau de soie with re-embroidered Alencon lace forming scallops around the scoop neckline and continuing down the glove point sleeves, also descending in a panel on the bodice and skirt. The draped overskirt ended in a chapel train. A fingertip, English illusion veil was held in place by a double bow of matching peau de soie and she carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis.

Patricia Porter was her sister's maid of honor and Mrs. Milton A. Marquard was matron of honor. Nancy's other attendants were the bridegroom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Arthur Eldridge of Palm Springs, Miss Randi Ayers of Carmel Valley, and Miss Tina Nelson, both of Santa Barbara.

They were dressed alike in Empire style gowns of yellow linen trimmed with Venice lace. Bows of the same material held their veils and they carried flowing cascades of yellow daisies.

Arthur Eldridge of Palm Springs served as his brother's best man. Seating guests were Milton Marquard of Carmel Valley, Michael Marquard of Oakland, Donald de Long of Palm Springs, James Threlkeld of Westwood and Norman Spencer of Seattle.

The newlyweds greeted a host of friends at a reception at Del Monte Lodge following the ceremony. When they return from their wedding trip, they will make their home in Palm Springs, where the bridegroom is associated with the stock brokerage firm of Shearson Hammell.

Nancy, a graduate of Carmel High School, is in her junior year at the University of California at Santa Barbara, where she is affiliated with Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Porter of Carmel Valley, and of Charles Haddon Manners of Piedmont and the late Delberta Manners.

Her husband, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Eldridge of Seattle and Palm Springs, attended the Harvard School in Los Angeles and graduated from the University of Washington, where he was a member of Psi Upsilon fraternity.

Barbecue For Mother

Mrs. Kenneth (Dorothea) Roberts was properly indulged on Mother's Day by her husband and children at a barbecue at the Robertses' cabin on the Little Sur. Dio drove up from Los Angeles with a friend to join David and Nancy, who also brought friends, in honoring their mother.

Nancy recently returned from Australia (where she had a fabulous four months) with Sandy Strosnider who is again living in Carmel. Sandy's mother, Mrs. June Strosnider, is a former Carmel resident who now makes her home in Sydney.

OES Honors Past Matrons

Past Matrons of Carmel Chapter No. 581, Order of the Eastern Star, were hostesses at a lovely luncheon at Crichton House on Tuesday in honor of Past Matrons Mrs. Clifford Cook and Mrs. Paul Tekawa. Attending were Mrs. John Westover, president of the Past Matrons Association, who arranged the luncheon, Mrs. Robert A. Little, Mrs. Edward Durel, Mrs. Samuel Coleman, Mrs. P. J. Leighty, Mrs. Roy Lewis, Mrs. Paul McKinstry, Mrs. Burleigh Zack, Mrs. Eugene Scheffer and Mrs. Grace Fontes.

Cliff Cooks Take To The Road

Cliff and Mary Cook returned to Carmel, jubilant over their luck in Las Vegas last week, just long enough to say hello to friends and repack their bags for a trip to Washington. The week before found the Cooks at Lake Tahoe. Now they are on their way to Pullman for a visit with Cliff's daughter, Sunny, and her husband, Dr. Donald Matteson, professor of chemistry at Washington State University. Cliff and Mary planned to arrive when the Matteson youngsters are not in school so they can spend the weekend spoiling them.

More Honors For Linda

Linda McHarry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. McHarry of Carmel, has been awarded a special honor certificate for high scholastic achievement at the University of Denver, where she is a junior majoring in French. Linda has consistently maintained a fine record and has been named previously to the dean's list at the university. Her new award is made only to students who have attained predominately "A" grades during the quarter.

Tadlocks Will Leave Carmel

Mr. and Mrs. Max Tadlock, who have been residents of Carmel for 15 years, are planning to move to the vicinity of Palo Alto, where Mr. Tadlock has accepted a position as director of educational research for Management and Economics Research Inc., also as vice president of Pacific Research Center.

Mr. Tadlock has been English instructor, dean of students, dean of instruction and chairman of the department of speech and drama at Monterey Peninsula College. A longtime faculty member of the college, he has been active in the California Junior College Association and the California Teachers Association.

The Tadlocks have two daughters, Maxa, who will graduate from MPC this semester, and Susy, in her first year at the college.

Off To Europe

Today, Mrs. J. David Reed left Carmel to fly to Frankfurt, Germany, from San Francisco. A 20-minute flight from Frankfurt will take her to Stuttgart where she will be greeted by her husband, Dr. Reed, who is in Europe as head of a Stanford Research Institute team project.

Further travel plans for the Reeds include attending a NATO conference in Rome on operations research the last week in May. This will be in connection with Dr. Reed's work.

Greece may be the Reed's next stop, depending on how the SRI project has progressed. If the SRI team research is completed by the time Mrs. Reed is ready to come home, both Dr. and Mrs. Reed will fly to the East coast to attend the marriage of their eldest son, David, to Miss Anne Murphy in Charlestown, Rhode Island. However, if Dr. Reed is unable to come back to the United States in time for the marriage, Mrs. Reed will attend the event alone before returning to Carmel. David is a student at Swarthmore College in Pennsylvania.

During the six weeks Mrs. Reed will be away from Carmel, her elder daughter, Alison, and her husband, Bruce Woodworth, will move into the Reed home to stay with Marian, Tim and Everett while their mother is away.

The Hanging Was A Surprise

"We are going to have a hanging at 5:30," announced Mrs. Jack Geisen in her native French. "Or, if you prefer, bring your own guillotine." The mysterious message, delivered via telephone last Thursday, ended with an urgent request to a number of friends that they be present at the appointed hour.

The curious guests assembled, a picture frame was unveiled revealing a superb and unusual map of Paris, a gift to the Geisens from artist Robert Horne. What Micheline Geisen did not know as she exclaimed her delight in the map was that on the opposite side of the frame was a painting by Mr. Horne which she had long admired. The oil, a light-filled, vibrantly colored landscape, was also a gift to the Geisens and drew admiration from everyone who had come to witness the "hanging."

MARRIED AT MISSION

Multicolored sprays of Spring flowers adorned the altar of Carmel Mission Basilica for the wedding on April 30 of Catherine Devlin of Pebble Beach and Richard Edward (Ted) McKown Jr. of San Francisco. A small group of family members witnessed the noon ceremony which was performed by the Reverend Roger J. Dieudonne.

Catherine, daughter of Mrs. Arthur C. Devlin of Pebble Beach and the late Mr. Devlin, was given in marriage by her brothers, Arthur V. Devlin of Pebble Beach and Robert T. Devlin of San Francisco. Her day-length dress was of white lace and she carried butterfly orchids.

Mrs. Diane Devlin Parker of San Francisco, her sister's only attendant, chose a vibrant pink dress with a matching bow in her hair.

The bridegroom's brother, Robert F. McKown of Wayland, Massachusetts, served as best man.

After a family luncheon at the Devlin residence, the couple left for a wedding trip to Mexico and are now at home in San Francisco.

The bride attended the University of California at Berkeley, where she was affiliated with Pi Beta Phi sorority.

Her husband, the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. McKown of Bar Harbor, Maine, attended the University of Massachusetts and Wesleyan University. With marriage, he relinquished his membership in the San Francisco Bachelors.

Craigs Enjoyed The Desert

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Craig recently spent a two weeks' vacation at Palm Springs and Scottsdale. "We enjoy the desert air and landscape," Mrs. Craig says, "and we enjoy, equally, coming back to our pines and oaks—even the fog."

Enjoyed Mexico Travels

Traditional minor disasters, local "frangrances" and inconveniences notwithstanding, Mr. and Mrs. John Zellhoefer could be easily persuaded to go right back to Mexico, where they covered some 6,000 miles during their three months of travel. Enthusiastic and curious, the Zellhoefers appear to have derived the utmost from their experiences in that many faceted country.

Among their favorite places was a beach resort near Manzanillo, Las Hadas, which, they report, had marvelous accommodations and excellent food, also incomparable swimming conditions. Another spot was Motel San Cayetano ranch, run by Americans, midway between Morelia and Toluca at Zitacuaro. Still other places the travelers enjoyed particularly were Mexico City and Jojotepec, on the shores of Lake Chapala, which they made their headquarters while exploring nearby Guadalajara.

"Dolphins" For Mike Raggett

In a telephone call from Honolulu to wish his mother a "Happy Mother's Day," Lieutenant Michael (Mike) Raggett, USN, casually dropped the fact that he is now a qualified submariner and has his "Dolphins," a fact best appreciated by Navy people. Mike, an outstanding member of his graduating class at Carmel High School as well as the U. S. Naval Academy, hopes to be home for a visit in July with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Raggett. If so, it will be a happy reunion, since his brother, Jon, whom he has not seen for almost three years, will also be back in this area. Jon will graduate from Princeton in June and, after a summer vacation, will do graduate work in structural engineering on a fellowship at Stanford University.

Sunday Was Special

Regular early morning coffee customers at Donel's restaurant found proprietor Donald L. Haines with a particularly beatific expression on his face Monday. Mrs. Haines had turned the tables on her husband on Mother's Day and presented him with a gift—a new son, Timothy Martin, who was born at 9 a.m. Sunday in Community Hospital.

Frontier Days At Chico

Parents of at least two Chico State College students traveled to Chico last weekend for the annual Frontier Days held there. Judge and Mrs. Eugene Harrah visited their daughter, Jean, who is doing graduate work. Mr. and Mrs. John Farr and their daughter, Kathy, enjoyed seeing Diana Farr and taking part in the festivities which included a fine parade of colorfully costumed entrants, a band concert and a performance of "Oklahoma!"

In Drama Production

Susan Mason of Carmel, a sophomore at Purdue University in Indiana, was among cast members of the Purdue University Theater's production of "The Way of the World." The 18th Century comedy of romantic intrigue by William Congreve, chosen for the final play in the theater's 39th season, had its last performances the past weekend.

Wendy Weismuller Engaged

With family members and close friends present, the engagement of Wendy Weismuller to Warren Penniman of Santa Cruz was announced Saturday at the home of Miss Weismuller's grandmother, Mrs. Arthur Scott, in Ben Lomond. The engagement party took place in the lovely Santa Cruz mountain setting where Wendy's mother, the former Beryl Scott, was married last month to Jon Konigshofer of Carmel.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of John Weismuller of Chicago and the sister of John Weismuller Jr. She attended school in Los Angeles and at Chateau d'Oex in Switzerland.

Her fiancé, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Penniman Sr. of Santa Cruz, has one sister, Cynthia, and two brothers, Mark and Edward. He attended Cabrillo College and is associated with Penniman Title Company in Santa Cruz.

The young couple will delay their wedding date until the return in October of Mr. and Mrs. Konigshofer, who are leaving Tuesday for Europe.

A Crown For Joanne

Joanne Thompson was crowned Queen of the Junior-Senior Prom on April 30 at the annual gala event sponsored by the junior class of Carmel High School. The Queen and her attendants, chosen by vote of the juniors as outstanding senior girls, were presented to a host of young people and their chaperones at a dinner dance held at the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club. Joanne's attendants were, in order, Susie Draper, Vicki Brinsmead and Sharon Smith.

Committees under Rick Shelton and Doug Adams, the year's two junior class presidents, also Diane Swift, who was in charge of decorations, made the evening a memorable one for all who attended the formal party.

FAREWELL LUNCHEON

The two ladies above, both wives of generals, are former Carmel girls who met their husbands when they were serving here as young lieutenants. At left is Mrs. Robert G. Fergusson (Charlotte Lawrence), the wife of the commanding general of Fort Ord. Beside her is Mrs. Leland Cagwin (Jacqueline Smith), whose husband, former commander of CDEC at Fort Ord, left today for Aberdeen Proving Grounds in Maryland where he will head the Test and Evaluation Command. Mrs. Fergusson and Mrs. Cagwin were photographed at the farewell luncheon for Mrs. Cagwin given by the CDEC Wives Club in the ballroom of the Fort Ord officers club last week.

Janice Holmgren Sets Date

Janice Marie Holmgren, whose engagement was announced recently by her parents, the Reverend and Mrs. Ned Holmgren of Carmel, has chosen July 9 as the date for her wedding to Jodet Shuquem of Jordan. The couple will be married at the First Baptist Church of Reseda in the San Fernando Valley, a former pastorate of the Reverend Mr. Holmgren, who will perform the ceremony for his daughter. Janice will be given in marriage by her grandfather, the Reverend Henry Berglund of San Diego.

The bride-to-be is a graduate of Westmont College in Santa Barbara and is teaching kindergarten in that city.

She has asked her sister, Nancy Ellen Holmgren, to be her maid of honor. Her other attendants will be her sister-in-law, Mrs. Erica Holmgren of Monterey, and two friends in the teaching profession, Jean Clark and Doris Rimer, both of Santa Barbara. Janice has chosen a flower girl and ring bearer from among her kindergarten students.

Mr. Shuquem is employed as a draftsman in Los Angeles while completing his training in architectural engineering at Woodbury College. Serving as his best man and usher will be his fiancée's brothers, Paul Douglas Holmgren of Monterey and Private John Merrill Holmgren, who is currently in basic training with the U.S. Marine Corps in San Diego.

Grant Pollock At Pendleton

Grant Pollock, who enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps in January, is stationed at Camp Pendleton where he has completed individual combat training and is now a private first class in charge of a transportation unit. The new Marine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reed Pollock of Carmel, graduated from Carmel High School and attended Monterey Peninsula College.

With luck, Grant will be home on leave around the end of the month to visit his parents, and a sister, Patricia "Chickadee," a Carmel High student. His other sister, Barbara (Mrs. Dan Nevis), is a Sacramento resident, while his brother, Parker, is teaching at Humboldt State College and working for his master's degree in economics.

Poco Loco Docked At Wharf

It was beautiful warm weather on April 30 for the James Pullens' boat-warming of their newly acquired 42-foot Chris Craft Constellation, the "Poco Loco," securely berthed in the Monterey Marina. Mr. Pullen, once a big schooner sailor, admits to an aesthetic preference for sailboats but finds the comforts of a cruiser undeniable and the family's new boat a distinct improvement over the last one. The couple and their sons, Gerald and Tommy, head for sea at every opportunity to cruise and fish and are hoping to voyage to the Channel Islands on the Memorial Day holiday.

Birch Society Organizer To Talk On UN At Carmel High And Sunset

On Tuesday at 8 p.m., G. Edward Griffin, author of "The Fearful Master," will speak at Sunset Center auditorium. His subject will be "The United Nations." The same day, he will speak to Carmel High School students on the same subject.

The title of his book is from George Washington's statement: "Government is not reason; it is not eloquence; it is force! Like fire, it is a dangerous servant and a fearful master."

In his book, Mr. Griffin points out, outlining their records, that of 17 men who were government figures in UN planning, within the U. S. State Department and Treasury Department, all but one — Dean Acheson — since have been identified in sworn testimony as secret Communist agents. Further, Alger Hiss not only was acting secretary-general at the San Francisco UN conference — he served on the steering and executive committees charged with actually writing the new (UN) charter.

Mr. Griffin has been dedicated to independence and liberty since, at the age of 15, in 1947, he won the annual national oratorical contest sponsored by Hearst newspapers. The subject was "Patrick Henry."

In his senior high school year, he had his own CBS radio program, "Make Way for Youth," and on the basis of a statewide competitive scholastic examination, was awarded a Regents' Alumni Scholarship to the University of Michigan. There, he majored in speech, at the same time worked as a radio announcer and news commentator on WUOM.

Following graduation, he was assistant TV director at WWJ-TV, NBC, Detroit. After two years in military service, he spent several years in sales management of group insurance in Southern California.

He established one of the first chapters of the John Birch Society in Southern California, and soon was invited to be the society's major coordinator and chief organizer in California.

Tickets (Donation—$1) to the Sunset Center presentation may be obtained by calling 659-2000 or 624-5562. Any remaining tickets will be available at the Sunset ticket office from 5:00 - 8:00 p.m. on May 17.

Lyceum Music Camp Concurrent With Conductors Workshop

Thanks to a $2,000 grant from the Monterey Jazz Festival, the Lyceum of the Monterey Peninsula will again present a summer music day camp. The project is being planned in cooperation with John Gosling, conductor of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra, and founder of the Youth Symphony, also with school music supervisors. Twenty talented instrumental students (piano excepted) from the Peninsula area will be selected from those who will enter grades 7-12 next fall, or who are presently in grade 12. The camp is scheduled from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. daily, June 27 - July 15, at Asilomar.

The camp will be held in conjunction with the American Symphony Orchestra League's Conductors Workshop which is held annually at Asilomar.

A professional musical director will coordinate the Lyceum students in a program of background information and theory. Each student will also receive a minimum of four private lessons from professional musicians at the symphony workshop. In addition, students will be afforded the opportunity to participate in the rehearsals of the 100-piece orchestra with players drawn from leading U. S. symphonies.

The Conductors Workshop Orchestra will be under the leadership of Dr. Richard Lert, conductor of the Pasadena Symphony and Chorus.

Earl Beverton

Funeral services for Earl G. Beverton, 76, were held Saturday morning in the Paul Funeral Chapel with Monterey Lodge 1285, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks officiating. Mr. Beverton, a resident of the Peninsula for over 70 years, died May 4 in a local nursing home following a long illness.

Since 1941, he had made his home in Carmel and for 20 years, until his retirement six years ago, was custodian at Sunset School. Mr. Beverton was a graduate of Pacific Grove schools and a carpenter by trade.

A member of Monterey Lodge No. 1285, BPOE for over 35 years, he was a U. S. Navy veteran of World War I.

Mr. Beverton was born August 25, 1889, in Truckee.

He leaves three sisters, Mrs. Roy (Rena) Meadows of Carmel Valley, Mrs. E. B. Martin of Alameda and Mrs. L. H. Peterson of Los Angeles; and numerous nieces and nephews, including Mrs. Claude Smith of Monterey and Roy Meadows of Carmel Valley.

Pallbearers were officers of the Monterey Elks Lodge. Burial took place in El Carmelo Cemetery, Pacific Grove.

Home Furnishings Show This Weekend

Interior decorators, home furnishing stores, artists and landscape artists will be represented in a "Portrait of Home Furnishings," sponsored by the Central Coast Counties Council of the Children's Home Society, the state's only non-profit, privately supported adoption agency. Tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock, a champagne preview will open the three-day display in the Fine Arts complex at Monterey County Fairgrounds. Saturday and Sunday, the show will be open from 1-9 p.m.

In addition to furniture and home accessories, an exhibit of painting and sculpture by local artists has been arranged. Included are works by Clarence Bates, Joe Ataide, Traylor Dunwoody, Valerio Giusi, Robert Horne, Ardeth Terrill Hughes, Betty Harrington, Marlinde Von Ruhs, also architectural photography by Jerry Lebeck.

Mrs. Sebastian Bordonaro, assisted by Mrs. Thomas Flint, is chairman of the fund raising event, whose proceeds will benefit the adoption work of the Children's Home Society. Donations of $2.50 for the champagne preview, $1 for general admission on the other days, will entitle the ticket holder to a chance on a variety of door prizes.

Boating Laws To Be Discussed At Local Conference

Called by the state's Division of Small Craft Harbors at the request of the senate fact finding committee on natural resources, the conference will be open to representatives of all agencies and organizations concerned with boating law enforcement.

Letter To Editor

Dear Editor;

Concerning the articles on the local Sing-Out. I recently asked Robin Stevens, who is the writer of the article which originally appeared in the "Carmel High School Sandpiper", since she seems to be an authority on Moral Re-Armament, "What is MRA?" She replied, "What do you mean?" I restated the question. "What are the goals of Moral Re-Armament?" She answered that it had something to do with building up patriotism in America. She went on to say that she didn't really know, or didn't know how to say it.

May I remind everyone that in her article criticizing the local Sing-Out's show she said, "Looking at the entire scope of MRA . . .", and she went on to say, ". . . this is a shallow and superficial interpretation of MRA's aims."

Well Robin Stevens doesn't even know what the aims of MRA are.

Moral Re-Armament is a movement devoted to personal honesty, purity, unselfishness and love as a basis for a better society; that is to say its sole aim is to remake the world, and in doing so must change human nature through these four standards.

I realize that when I fired those questions at her she didn't have time to collect her thoughts and tell me everything she knew about MRA, but what I am trying to get at is that she is no authority on the subject, as many people were undoubtedly led to believe from her review of "Sing-Out Monterey's" first presentation for parents and patrons.

She has her own opinion of the show, and that's fine, but that was only her opinion. The other 300 people at the performance gave a five-minute standing ovation that didn't cease until two more songs were sung. Almost every person that I and the other members of the cast talked to were very impressed with our performance, after only a few rehearsals. And they felt that our enthusiasm was far from being "Made in Japan" as Robin Stevens puts it.

The article's title read, "Local Sing-Out Proves Failure." Well I say, "LOCAL CRITIC PROVES FAILURE".

Signed,
John L. Sullivan

Editor,
Carmel Pine Cone,

On behalf of the senior citizens of the Monterey Peninsula, we earnestly seek your support of their need for additional bus service between Carmel, Monterey, Seaside, Pacific Grove and other points at reduced fares.

There are many retired residents of the Peninsula living on fixed or considerably reduced incomes that do not permit the luxury of a car; accordingly they must depend on public transportation. Even to reach the Community Hospital or Skyline Convalescent Hospital or other vital places it becomes necessary for them either to call a taxi-cab, which few can afford, or rely on a friend with a car at his or her convenience.

Mr. Ward of the Gray Line, Inc. has evidenced his willingness to help by running a bus on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from Holman's parking lot in Pacific Grove along this route: up Forest Avenue with stops at Canterbury Woods, Forest Hill Manor, Forest Hill Shopping Center, then on to the two hospitals, to Carmel, the Carmel Rancho Shopping Center and Hacienda Carmel, from there looping back; one trip in the morning and one in the afternoon of those particular days. Mr. Ward said also that the trips would be at rates comparable to those of school children; tickets to be sold only at the senior centers.

While we are aware that no bus company can operate with only a few passengers, we are confident that such a service would be used by many and with greater frequency, not in any way detracting from the present service. By way of suggestion, operating on a trial basis for say a month or two would prove the need for the service and, if bus fares for senior citizens are reduced throughout the Peninsula, this would be of distinct advantage to the merchants of the various towns.

May we ask your readers to give serious consideration to this matter, which is of vital concern to many of them, and indicate their approval to Mr. Ward of the Gray Lines, Inc.

Yours cordially,

Party Plans

By Phyllis Jervey

In honor of California's trout season, which opened locally on April 30, Party Plans will give some delectable ways of preparing this delicacy. Trout is by far California's most sought after game fish. Although belonging to the same family as salmon, trout are less fatty and have a more elusive flavor. An estimated 900,000 anglers go after this fish every year. So it is no wonder that on our Peninsula a sign saying "Gone Fishing" appears sometimes on shop doors.

The golden trout is known for its beauty and the steelhead for its gameness. Anyone who has taken a fresh-run steelhead on a fly and light tackle will never forget the experience. The California Fish and Game Department works to make sure that there is a plentiful supply of catchable size trout in accessible areas. So when the men of your house bring in their catch from the Carmel, Big Sur and Arroyo Seco rivers, reach for one of the following recipes and the whole family will be in for the greatest treat . . . trout!

Remember that a delicate fish like trout may easily lose much of its tender texture if over-cooked. Color and crunchiness are the key words when planning a fish menu. Vegetables should be bright and crisp if cooked. Better yet are raw young carrot sticks; firm celery hearts; crisp radishes; slim green onions; unpeeled small zucchini and cucumber strips. Watercress is a perfect teammate for trout as are, too, wedges of lemon made rosy with paprika and rolled in minced fresh parsley.

BARBECUED TROUT (Serves 6)

Six medium-sized dressed trout; salt; 1/3 cup sherry; 1/3 cup melted butter; 2 tbsps. lemon juice; 6 slices bacon.

Sprinkle trout cavities with salt. Combine sherry, butter and lemon juice and pour over trout to marinate for one hour. Turn once during this time. Remove trout and wrap each with a strip of bacon. Cook trout over medium-hot coals until bacon is crisp. Baste 4 times with remaining marinade. Turn only once and carefully with wide spatulas. While cooking trout make following sauce:

Sauce: Two tbsps. sesame seeds; 1/4 cup butter; 1 tsp. sherry; 1 tsp. lemon juice.

Brown sesame seeds in butter; add sherry and lemon juice. Serve hot over trout for the treat of a lifetime.

TROUT EN PAPILLOTE (Serves only one)

One beautiful fresh trout; 6 tbsps. clam juice; 2 tbsps. minced clams and mushrooms, each; 1 tsp. onion salt; 1/2 tsp. Accent; melted butter; diced crisp sauteed bacon; vinegar-wilted watercress; quilted broiling foil; oil.

Line barbecue brazier with quilted broiling foil. Add charcoal, light and burn until flames die down. Do not remove head or tail from fish. Brush liberally with clam juice inside and out. Combine clams, mushrooms, onion salt, Accent and moisten with melted butter and clam juice. Cut a piece of 14-inch quilted foil the length and width of trout, plus a margin of 1 1/2 inches all around. Oil lightly. Place fish on half of piece of foil; fold other half over fish. Starting at one end, make overlapping folds, sealing edge of foil securely. Cook over hot coals 3 minutes; turn and cook 3 minutes more. Repeat, cooking trout a total of 6 minutes per side. Remove foil and serve trout on a bed of diced cooked bacon and vinegar-wilted (or fresh) watercress. Garnish with avocado strips and lemon slices.

SAUTEED TROUT WITH DILL (Serves 6)

Six trout fillets; flour; salt and pepper; 1/2 stick butter. Dust trout fillets lightly with flour or put flour, cornmeal, seasonings into a brown paper bag and shake well to mix. Drop in the fillets, one at a time and shake. Saute in butter about five minutes, turn fish carefully and saute other side about the same time, depending on thickness of fillets, or until they flake easily when tested with a fork. Remove to warm platter. Garnish with fresh dill.

Serve with Dill Butter: Melt 4 tbsps. butter. Add 1/2 tsp. dill seed or a good pinch of dill salt with fresh lime or lemon juice.

GRILLED FILLETS

Grilled fillets done over charcoal is a most flavorsome way to cook trout. In this case, after you cut the trout into two boneless good-sized pieces (actually halves) they are ready to grill. Do not skin but remove head and tail. The skin curls up around the flesh during grilling and holds in all the rich juices. Baste with melted butter and lemon juice. Dust with onion salt to taste. These grilled fillets will be moist within and crusty brown on top.

For party fare try a Fluffy Mayonnaise Mask. Mix 1 cup mayonnaise, lemon juice to taste and 1

Though It's Ever So Humble . . . No Place For Home

"Again?" Mrs. W. E. van Loben Sels asked herself recently when she found a letter in her mail box stating that the "hottest issue pending before this community now" was the application before the county planning commission for rezoning of an approximately 400-acre parcel of land on which the Humble Oil and Refining Company had taken an option. The letter also announced that a petition against the rezoning was being circulated.

Mr. and Mrs. van Loben Sels maintain homes in Carmel and Rodeo in Contra Costa County where Mr. van Loben Sels has business interests. The letter about the new petition against Humble Oil originated in the latter community and Mrs. van Loben Sels was being faced with a repeat performance of the Humble situation in Monterey County.

Her letter stated that the Rodeo Community Council had "heard from a generally irate Rodeo" at its April meeting when the Humble rezoning was discussed.

"The land in question is the last remaining acreage adjoining Rodeo and has long been considered choice land for a new high school, homes and park areas," the letter points out.

Another statement was "Humble Oil and Refining Company first expressed interest in this land some time ago but decided to build their refinery at Moss Landing because that site offered the best topography and water access. The people of Monterey County made headlines when they opposed Humble's plans and the company bowed out of Monterey County."

Reasons given in the letter for protesting the Rodeo refinery were: citizens generally agreed they did not want to be hemmed in by oil refineries; their property values would definitely drop; they did not want any more smells and smoke; Rodeo is already overblended with heavy industry; the egg yolk. Fold in stiffly beaten egg white. Swirl top of fish with Fluffy Mayonnaise topping. Broil under high heat (this has to be done on electric grill or in stove) and sprinkle with paprika.

Wild white lilac branches make a marvelous charcoal when burned down. The smoke is especially enticing. There are home-sized smoking stoves nowadays which are portable and easily managed. Kim Novak, whose home is at Carmel Highlands, always has her fresh trout smoked with the wild white lilac fuel. Glamorous indeed! The fresher the trout the more marvelous. So hurry home with your prizes! No delay en route. You can tell your fish story to the boys another time.

WORK COMPLETED

Work on Carmel Valley Road at its easterly intersection with Rancho Fiesta Road has been completed. The work consisted of replacing an existing culvert which had become plugged during Winter months. Maintenance forces are now in the process of resurfacing Rancho Fiesta Road at this point.

Construction was done by Dillard Brothers Construction Company of Castroville at a cost of $8,500.00.

school district already has the lowest tax rate in Contra Costa County; a community that cannot grow and expand slowly deteriorates with aging buildings; in the event of a major disaster, Rodeo would be the center of a roaring inferno.

The matter was still undecided last week as the granting of the use permit for the Contra Costa site was again delayed.

And residents of Monterey County were still battling Humble, too, which had not, as yet, "bowed out."

Many persons asked the identity of the mother and daughter on the front of last week's Pine Cone. The silhouette was of Mrs. Richard Wilsdon and her daughter, Diane. In the picture, above, Mrs. Wilsdon is seen again with four-year-old Diane who attends the Parents Cooperative Nursery School of the Carmel Unified School District. Next to her is her brother, Scott, five years old and a kindergarten pupil at River School. At right, is the Wilsdons' older son, Alex, seven years old and a second grader at River who is taking guitar lessons.

In addition to caring for her family, Mrs. Wilsdon is an active member of the nursery school parents group, (she was chairman of Bay Day this year), the Punch and Judy chapter of the Children's Home Society, the Junior League of the Monterey Peninsula and Lawyers' Wives of Monterey County. She also creates mosaics and paints (recently, she sold her first picture). Jean Wilsdon also makes bright-hued paper flowers and a Christmas decoration she made using these was one of the prizewinners at the American Federation of Arts Christmas creations show this year.

Elizabeth Stupack Writes About Ardors Of Peace Corps In Uruguay

"Uruguay is in the midst of galloping inflation, terrific devaluation of the dollar, constant strikes, and shortages of everything of value," Elizabeth Stupack, a Peace Corps volunteer in this South American country, writes home to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. van Loben Sels of Carmel.

"We're down here to work with Uruguay's equivalent of 4-H clubs as free labor for the sectional organization in Montevideo," Liz explains of the work she and her husband, Steven, share. Describing conditions under which they live, she reports, "We have a gas stove and kerosene lights, but wash in cold water, cook over a grill and hold classes in the dark because fuel is so expensive, often unobtainable."

"We rarely eat meat, and canned when we do, and we keep a stock of rice, flour, oatmeal, corn flour, beans, lentils and canned vegetables for the weeks when these commodities cannot be obtained. Sugar is worst, not because it's so expensive, but because there is none about 50 percent of the time. We have a stock of honey for a sugar substitute."

"We've had a lovely garden for the last several months with onions, parsley, corn, radishes, cabbages, beans, carrots, peppers and squash. Our yard also contains lemon, orange and peach trees."

"We live in one room of a two-room and kitchen house. When we arrived we were told to live in a 'town' on the river consisting of some 500 houses, two dozen stores and 75 cops. But the people who were supposed to help us find a place dumped us in 'town' and left us—and there wasn't and still isn't an empty house there."

"We found this place on our own and are glad of it since it's out in the sticks among the people we're here to work with. But it has its disadvantages. Three hundred yards down the road is our 'home' club's school where lives the teacher and leader of the club, and he's a Commie."

"After waiting two weeks to be invited to the club, we went uninvited and he said in front of all that he didn't invite us or want us there but that he would permit us to come to club meetings. When we do, he spends the whole time berating the United States and us."

"His sidekick lives in the other room of our house. Not only does she throw garbage all over the yard, burn trash every time I wash and go out of her way to kick our kitten around, but she occupied our kitchen."

"The landlord told us it was our kitchen and when we went to clean the place, we found it was locked up tight and full of the landlord's seeds. However, she claimed it was hers, though until then she'd never used it. Nevertheless, when we moved into our room, she moved into the kitchen. The landlord assured us this was an error and that he would go by the school and straighten it out. Quite the contrary! They straightened him out. He was too gutless to come by the house and apologize or tell us. We've not seen him since."

"The area we are in is north of the City of Salto, on the north-west boundary of Uruguay. Chacras, where we live, is a populated rural area with small farms some 30 miles north of Salto which has a population of 60,000."

"Our area should be the truck farming district for the city but there is no irrigation, no electricity, relatively little use of fertilizer, little soil conservation. Practically all the work is done with a horse."

"Our best friend has a tractor but can no longer afford the gas, tires, etc. to keep it going... and for the area he's well off."

"The land itself is poor and sandy, needs a lot of coddling and gets none from men who are accustomed to scraping up the most they can one year to the next. The fact that they frequently get less for their crops than they pay for the seed discourages investment in a people that is already hampered by a backward vision of time. This encourages the use of poor hybrid seed. It never occurs to them to plant crops that 'seed' the soil or that thrive in sandy loam. They're traditionalists in their farming and in their poverty. And the Commies are telling them we're here as spies!"

"We'll soon be moving to a new house. It has two rooms and a kitchen, all of which will be ours. After six months of cooking, sleeping, eating, bathing and teaching in one room, this will be paradise. However, we still will be without heat, refrigeration, light and water but the landlord has put up an outhouse."

"Our other problem has been transportation. The last group had jeeps, bicycles, horses, typewriters, printing and movie machines. We were sent out with nothing. We get $70 a month for both of us. Our orders were to borrow bikes or horses for two years, but since that made no splash with the natives, we were given permission to rent transportation at our own expense."

"But guess what? We've run into a man of wealth and charity, an extremely rare combination. He will actually lend us two horses for the whole time we're here. Great! So now how to get them? His estancia is 20 miles away. We walked out last week only to find no one was home. Now we have to walk back."

"However, we walk everywhere. If we haven't covered ten miles before bedtime, it just hasn't been a day. 'Town', where we pick up mail once a week, is seven miles away. We also walk to 'town' to get the nearest transport to Salto where we have one club and from it walk another seven miles to get to another club. Ten miles the other way from here is a third club and I have to be there twice a week at least."

Any transport in the first direction is the passing of maybe two cars an hour and believe me they pass without hesitation. In the other direction maybe in one day half a car passes, and that's true in more ways than just a statistic. Vintage cars and trucks are numerous. One of our more wealthy friends has a Model T truck (they are quite common here and parts have to be made in Argentina). These trucks sell for $1,000 which is a lot of money for people who are making $350 a year.

(To Be Continued Next Week)

MORE HELPFUL TIPS FROM PG&E

How pilot lights work; and what you can do when they don't.

How to tell when a pilot is out
You turn on a gas range burner and it doesn't light. Or a furnace won't go on. Or there's no hot water. This probably means the pilot light is out.

Gas range pilots
A gas range usually has more than one pilot. If you're not sure where your pilot or pilots are located, check your owner's manual. Or, if you can't find it, call us.

Before relighting a pilot, be sure all burners are turned off. Allow a few minutes for the air to clear, then touch a lighted match to the pilot opening. The pilot should light with a small blue flame, and the burner should light when you turn on the control. If the pilot or the burner fails to light, call us. We'll send a man out to check it.

Furnace pilots
If the pilot of any gas heater or furnace goes out, turn off the main burner valve. Allow ten or fifteen minutes for any accumulated gas to clear before relighting the pilot (following the instructions shown on the equipment). With the pilot relighted, the heater or furnace should operate. If it won't, call us.

Water heaters and clothes dryers
All modern gas water heaters and dryers shut off completely if the pilot goes out. And most models bear manufacturer instructions for relighting the pilot. If you are unable to get the appliance operating, call us or your appliance dealer.

Leave pilots lit
Some folks prefer to shut off furnaces and water heaters during the summer, or when they go away on vacation. You'll find it more convenient to turn off the main burner, but not the pilot. When the pilot is lighted, your furnace is ready to work on a cold day. Most water heaters can simply be turned to "PILOT." This position keeps the pilot lighted, but prevents the main burner from heating water.

Gas leaks
Warning: Never look for a gas leak with a lighted match or candle. Any suspected gas leak should be reported promptly to PG&E. We'll send a service man out to check it.

PG&E is ready to help
If you call for a PG&E service man to check out any gas leak or an inoperative gas appliance, ask him to show you where your gas pilots are located and how to go about relighting them. If repairs or parts are required for an appliance, an appliance or furnace man should be called.

Your biggest household bargain
There have been five reductions in gas and electric rates in the past three years. This makes PG&E service a bigger family bargain than ever.

WOODS SCHOOL MAY FESTIVAL

In the picture above, pupils in both morning and afternoon kindergarten classes at Woods School, taught by Mrs. Kay Goines, rest after opening the sixth annual May Festival at Woods School last Friday with the Hokey-Pokey Dance. This dance is performed each year by the youngest boys and girls at the school.

Pictured above are boys of the third and fourth grades going out to start a marching drill as their contribution to the festival, proudly carrying the flags of their country and state.

The girls above are all in the fourth grade. They are performing the Maypole Dance which traditionally closes the festival.

Mrs. Anna Kohner, principal of Woods School, says that the honor of weaving the maypole ribbons is always given to the "graduating" class and Woods School girls look forward, from the time they dance the Hokey-Pokey, to taking part in the closing event of yearly festival.

With physical education instructors Patricia Elliott and Diane Smith directing the synchronized swimmers and dancers of both sexes, an elaborate program has been planned around the general theme of evolution. Colorful costumes and lighting will enhance all the effects.

Nominally priced tickets will be sold at the pool gate. Adults will be admitted for 50 cents; students for 25 cents. Children 12 and under will be admitted free.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

"Mortals and Immortals" will be the subject at Christian Science church services this Sunday.

Golden Text: "As we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly" (I Corinthians).

Included in the Lesson-Sermon will be Jesus' statement to Nicodemus: "That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again."

And from the Christian Science textbook: "We must reverse our feeble flutterings—our efforts to find life and truth in matter—and rise above the testimony of the material senses, above the mortal to the immortal idea of God . . . It is only by acknowledging the supremacies of Spirit, which annuls the claims of matter, that mortals can lay off mortality and find the indissoluble spiritual link which establishes man forever in the divine likeness, inseparable from his creator" ("Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy).

fornia Association of High Twelve fornia, during his year as president.

STUDY SHOWS FARMERS HURT IN LABOR LOSS

A University of California study, conducted at the request of the State Board of Agriculture, sharply contradicts statements that farmers suffered little or no losses through the virtual shut-down of bracero labor in 1965.

The Council of California Growers says the 175-page study reveals that growers of high labor use crops suffered a total loss of $139.9 million in net income in 1965, with $90 million of this due directly to increased production and harvesting costs.

Specifically, the report confirmed that harvest labor shortages "caused harvest losses in asparagus, strawberries, Brussels sprouts and early tomatoes," and added that "local labor shortages for the 1965 deciduous and citrus fruit harvests caused harvest to lag behind the usual harvest pattern, resulting in some individual grower losses."

Losses to related industries were not evaluated in the report, except for an estimated $4 million loss to the processors of strawberries and asparagus.

Lionel Steinberg, a member of the state board, estimated the total economic loss to California at $200 million.

Bishop Pike And English Prelate To Conduct Forum At All Saints'

An open forum on the trends of "New Theology" and "New Morality" will be conducted jointly Sunday night by Bishop James A. Pike of San Francisco and Bishop John ("Honest To God") Rob-rently touring central California speaking and lecturing. Bishop Robinson has just completed a series of three lectures at Stanford University and with Bishop Pike is attending a seminar in Big Sur.

Sunday Bishop Pike will officiate at Santa Lucia Chapel in Big Sur, a mission of All Saints' parish in Carmel, for the Holy Eucharist and Confirmation.

Sunday evening's forum will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the parish hall of All Saints' Church. It is sponsored by the directors of the Council of Churches of the Monterey Peninsula.

Art News . . . .

Through the month of May, a one-man show of recent oil paintings by John Boit Morse will be shown in the Beardsley Room of the Carmel Art Association Gallery. Mr. Morse studied at Yale University and with various private instructors. Among his other one-man exhibitions have been shows in the Feingarten Galleries in San Francisco and Los Angeles. He also has shown his work in a number of local galleries. His paintings are included in many private collections in the United States and abroad.

Since 1915, Mr. Morse has spent the greater part of his life in Pebble Beach and Carmel Valley. Outstanding in his current show is a portrait of State Senator Fred Farr of Carmel with a background of Highway One in Monterey County which Senator Farr, a noted conservationist, worked to have designated as California's first scenic highway.

In the main exhibition room of the Carmel Art Association, a new exhibition of other members' work is on display.

Currently showing at the American Federation of Arts Gallery is an exhibition of color photography by two San Francisco Bay area artists, Robert Toren and Ernest Braun. Mr. Toren is well known as a portrait photographer in San Francisco where he has a gallery showing photography as well as other forms of art. This show, however, is of his interpretations of the city in many of its moods. Ernest Braun, who lives in San Anselmo, is an architectural and commercial photographer and has done two photographic books, creates photo murals and is doing research on filmstrips for visual education. The works being exhibited are part of a long-time picture project, "The Tideline," photographed along the California, Oregon and Washington beaches which is being published this year in a book called "Exploring Tidepools." Gallery hours are: weekdays, 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturdays, 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. The exhibition will last through May 26.

The weavers and other craftsmen of the community who did not attend the handweavers' conference in Berkeley last month will have an opportunity to see the exhibit of the local craftsmen as it was shown at the Claremont Hotel. The general meeting of the Carmel Crafts Guild tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Carmel Art Association gallery, open to all interested craftsmen, will be in charge of the weaving section of the guild.

Clare Martin, former instructor of color awareness at San Jose State College and other art schools will show examples of pattern and design in nature which she has collected as teaching aids through the years.

Other weavers will explain how they find ideas for their own creative work in the hidden beauty of things around us.

Members of the local weavers group who received awards at the show in Berkeley were Miss Alma Anderson, Mrs. Joel Priest (two awards), Mrs. Joseph Weston and Mrs. Warren Crabtree.

Students and teachers of the Monterey public schools invited the public to their third annual fine arts festival, "Art and Music in Action," which ends at 10 p.m. today. The festival is being held at King Hall at the U. S. Naval Postgraduate School. Kindergarten through twelfth grade pupils contributed to this event.

On May 28 at the M. H. De Young Museum in San Francisco, a poetic record on film, by Ansel Adams of Carmel Highlands and Pirkel Jones, depicting the processes involved in making wine, will be shown. Photographed at the Paul Masson Vineyards in Saratoga, this photographic display is being circulated by the Smithsonian Institution.

An event of unusual interest at the Galerie de Tours is the current exhibit of several florals by Elizabeth Charleston.

She has been painting professionally since 1960. Mainly self taught, she studied with Maria von Ridelstein, who encouraged her in further developing her own technique.

Her style, distinctly her own, combines an elegance and raw naivete that gives her work a uniquely fresh appeal.

Early impressions of the French countryside influence many of her landscapes. Concerning her work, Alfred Frankenstein of the San Francisco Chronicle has written, "when she paints flowers, their surroundings and their backgrounds, the results are very charming indeed. She really models her flowers in pigment, using palette knife, brush ends, and what not to create low reliefs having the shapes and colors of petals and leaves."

Artist Kay Newell of Coastlands, Big Sur, is exhibiting her work in water colors, ink, oils and mixed media at the Crocker-Citizens Bank at Pebble Beach during the month of May.

The Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York is acquiring an oil painting by local artist Patricia Cunningham. Titled "Flower Market," it is approximately 30 by 40 inches and was painted in Paris. If it were not for Robert Davey, president of the Carmel Art Association, few of Mrs. Cunningham's friends would be aware of the new honor accorded the popular artist.

In April of last year, with Lillian Bava and Leo Brico, Mrs. Cunningham opened a gallery in Capri, where she now spends a good part of each year.

Members of the Carmel Art Association, whose paintings and sculpture were selected for the Madonna Festival at the Wilshire Methodist Church, Los Angeles, last week were Barbara West, Kathryn Aurner, Wellington Yuan, Walter Landaker, paintings; Howell Armor, two pieces of sculpture; and Liesel Wurzmahn, a bronze cast in the lost wax method.

Other local artists whose paintings are included in the show are Joyce Jenkins of Pebble Beach and Lois Koerber of Carmel Highlands.

Leonard Heller, President of the Monterey Peninsula chapter of the American Federation of Arts announces a workshop, "Principles of Design," by Irene Lagorio, an artist who maintains studios in Carmel and Oakland. The workshop will be held at Sunset Center on May 16, 17, 18 and 19 from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Both Miss Lagorio and her brother, Henry Lagorio, are well known to members of A.F.A. for their lectures on art and architecture. Professor Lagorio is currently in Padova, as director of the University of California Overseas Campus in Italy.

Additional information may be secured by calling A.F.A. Headquarters, (624-2918). Membership is not a requirement.

The Sage Stompers are sponsoring a square dance hoedown on Saturday 8:30-11:30 p.m., at Fremont Junior High School in Seaside. John Strong of Santa Maria will be guest caller. A donation of $1 per person will include refreshments.

For those interested in learning to square dance, the organization sponsors a beginners' class at the Seaside Youth Center, 1185 Wheeler, Seaside. Archie Fleming of Carmel Valley is the instructor for the class which meets every Tuesday from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m.

Mrs. Matthews

Services for Mrs. Katharine C. Matthews, who died at her Carmel home Saturday, were held Tuesday in the Church of the Wayfarer with Dr. William Thomas officiating. Final services were held today in St. Paul's Union Church in Chicago, followed by burial in Mount Hope Cemetery in that city.

Throughout her life, Mrs. Matthews found pleasure in painting and writing and shared, with her family and friends, her talents as an organist.

She leaves four daughters, who were with her at the time of her death: Miss Georgianne E. Matthews of Carmel, Mrs. Coral Scherba of San Bernardino, Mrs. Katherine Shambaugh of Frederick, Maryland, and Mrs. Elizabeth Middleton of Arlington, Iowa. Also surviving are three sisters, Miss Susanna Spilger, Mrs. Rose Snyder and Mrs. Matilda Kinney, all of Chicago; and five grandchildren. Her husband, the late George F. Matthews, died in 1956.

Stock Market Notes

By Hugh Hannon

The recent drop in the Dow Jones Average from 995 to under 900 makes one wonder how far down can the stock market go? The Dow Jones Average, of course, is a sample of 30 leading stocks (picked from thousands listed on the New York Stock Exchange) whose average prices per share, adjusted for stock splits, is the figure commonly used to measure the ups and downs of the stock market. Stocks go up or down according to prospects of profits; so the Dow Jones Average, being a group of 30 leading stocks, goes up or down according to the hopes or fears as to profits, or, to be more specific, the group's earnings per share.

So when the government talks of fighting inflation by raising our individual income tax, thus decreasing what we can buy from the 30 leading companies that make up the Dow Jones Average; and when a growing list of leading economists advise the government to raise the taxes companies pay out of profits; it is easy to see that the 30 leading companies might lose profits by both increases, and thus wind up with less profits to pay dividends.

One buys stocks because one hopes profits will increase so dividends can increase. The current fear of decreased profits and may-be decreased dividends not only doesn't encourage the buying of stocks; but leads many speculators to sell in hopes of buying cheaper later. In an auction market, like the stock market, if there are many more sellers than buyers the price goes down.

Our question is "How far down?" Well, around the bottom of the 1957 drop the Dow Jones Average sold at a multiple of about 12 times earnings. If you take the estimate of $60 earnings and multiply it by 12 times earnings you get 720. In the 1957 drop the average dropped a little over 20%. The same drop from the recent high of almost 1,000 would bring us to between 750 and 800, or another 100 points below where we are now.

Last one becomes too pessimistic, this average has also been over 20 times earnings, or over 20 times the estimate of $60 in earnings, or 1200. So the average could go up to 1200 or down to 720 from its present level of 900.

The more one follows the expert's predictions of the future, the more one realizes that no one has a crystal ball. This month the head of the research department of one of the largest members of the New York Stock Exchange predicted that the Dow Jones Average would be over 1100 this year, (that would be a rise of over 30%). Another of the leading experts thinks the average will go well under 700 this year and not recover for over a year.

If I knew the answer I wouldn't be working for a living, I'd be sitting on my yacht in the Caribbean.

(Mr. Hannon is a registered representative with Irving Lundborg & Co.)

He is a political scientist and a professor at the University of California. Preceding Dr. Scalapino's talk, members of the council will have the opportunity to meet him at a dinner in his honor at Pine Inn. ### HOMES WITH STUDIOS

IN BEAUTIFUL NATURAL SETTINGS

IN THE HIGHLANDS FOREST

The studio was built for and used by a sculptor. It's a picturesque little cottage separated and secluded from the charming house. We WILL sell it, of course, for a vacation house for two families, but we hope to find a buyer who will use the studio as it was intended—or we have an artist who wants to rent the studio if you need only the two bedroom house. The price is only $35,000.

IN UPPER CARMEL VALLEY

and facing acres and acres of woods and meadows permanently dedicated as green belt, a versatile and fascinating home with a separate-but-attached studio, the whole beautiful unit designed to capture the sunlight and shadows of the bosky, rural setting. The architect's studio would be perfect for a writer or for any art or craft and the interesting building design features of the house create an ideal gallery for the finished products. Only $55,000 for all this plus over 80 acres of natural beauty free.

AND IN CARMEL,

Built by the present owner and never before on the market, it would be hard to decide what provides the most inspiration to the artist: the exquisite gardens surrounding the house or the magnificent view of Pt. Lobos or the sweeping view of the Valley hills. Not one, but two studios in this lovely home as the owner is both artist and craftsman. 4,000 sq. ft. on two levels, and every square foot handsomely decorated. Main floor has the formal living room, big dining room, wonderful kitchen, two bedrooms, two baths, and the studio or third bedroom. Lower level is a complete living unit of family room with bar, craft studio (or bedroom) and bath. The price is $75,000 and worth it.

AND WE CAN'T HELP THINKING

that our delightful little adobe out in the Carmel Valley sunshine and oaks (a full acre) is just right for an artist who would cut a North window into the carport, add a wall, and have a wonderful studio plus the cutest one bedroom home on the market. And the center fireplace is so right for sitting around and discussing the State of the Arts in the World Today. What could YOU do with it? It's only $26,000.

Bair Promises School District Balanced Budget

(Continued From Page One) there" and by effecting an approximate 10 percent personnel reduction, he could "bring in a balanced budget." Since the proposed 1966-67 school district expenditures are at the $2½ million level, there are obviously many nooks and crannies in many accounts where even quite modest, but earnest, "nickel-dime" savings could lead to the large savings implied in Bair's hopeful budget estimate.

It was nearly midnight when the board adjourned into private executive session to act on three agenda items: (1) The re-employment of teachers to be engaged for the coming school year, of whom there were 90 listed who already held permanent positions, eight probationary teachers for whom permanent status was recommended, and 33 new teachers recommended for probationary employment; (2) The proposed termination of the employment of six part-time teachers and of six remedial teaching instructors; (3) to act on the request for a year's leave-of-absence by Kathleen Byrne.

THREE KEY ACTIONS

First decisive action voted by the board, was taken on a motion made by Board Member Steven Sassoon, and passed by a 4-to-1 vote, with Board Member Clayton Neill, Jr., voting "No." This motion directed the elimination of "all classes with fewer than 15 students" with the proviso that only a special board action in any given case, could modify this.

The second definitive board action, which followed much prolonged discussion of ways and means to increase teacher workload and tighten the school-day schedule, was the one which brought to light the possibility, presented by Bair, that his understanding of board thinking as it then had expressed itself, could make it possible for him, later, to present a balanced working budget to the board. The board action, put in the form of a motion by Board Member Dr. Hilton Bialek seemed, before Bair spoke, like a kind of have-your-cake-and-eat-it-too proposal. And it evidently left doubts in the minds of two board members—Clayton Neill, Jr. and Chairman Dr. Robert Newton—for they voted "No." Bialek's motion said essentially that "we should continue what we now have" in the way of teacher-load and class-size and that, on that basis, "the superintendent should present a balanced budget" to the board. Hopefully, this is what he plans to do.

The third step ventured by the board, taken after an hour-and-a-half discussion of a broad range of adult school problems, and most particularly of "nursery school" programs encompassed in the "adult" curriculum, was expressed in a complex motion presented by Steven Sassoon, and approved on a 4-to-1 vote, with only Dr. Bialek saying "No." This omnibus adult school motion provided that: (1) At least $5 be charged each student for each course taken; (2) An added charge of $5 per month be collected for a family's first child in nursery school, and that the sum be $7.50 per month when two children from the same family are enrolled; (3) The fee for adult school participants in the Monterey County Symphony and Bach Festival programs, be increased from $1 to $2 per person; (4) The summer adult school program be eliminated.

DISCONTINUED COURSES

Because of the elimination of classes with fewer than 15 students, ordered last night by the Board, Bair mentioned that it was likely the following high school courses would be discontinued: modern mathematics, French 5, Spanish 4 and 5, all music classes except band and choir, bookkeeping, retailing, commercial art, electronics, fire science, and police science.

In routine actions, the board accepted the resignations of High School Assistant Principal Ross B. Evans, and the following teachers: Jean Bushnell, Elizabeth Campbell, Regina Duggan, Samuel B. Husk, Ariel L. Lane, Patricia Rynerson, and Jacqueline Willette. The motion to accept the resignations, was made by Board Member Roxanna Blanks, and passed unanimously.

The board also moved to "accept" the new instructional materials building, and expressed its appreciation for the work done on the project by Architect Fred Keeble.

The bid of RWK Business Machine Company of Monterey, to supply requested school furniture for the amount of $3,681.05, was accepted by the board.

A budget revision, required by the State Department of Education, was made to accommodate federal government funds, in the amount of $43,756.21, received under what is called Title I and II of the Elementary-Secondary Education Act. The funds generally apply against costs of remedial teaching and for purchase of library books.

A number of agenda items had not been considered when the board adjourned, near midnight, to executive session.

New Theatre Will Open On June 16

(Continued from Page One) with the life of Michelangelo when he was painting the ceiling murals in the Sistine Chapel (1508-12). Rex Harrison has the role of Pope Julius II and Charlton Heston portrays the great Renaissance artist.

This film, which people have heard and read about, and want to see, will be typical of other offerings, promises Tom Graff, operating owner of the 599-seat theatre now nearing completion at Dolores and Seventh. It has been under construction since early December.

The policy of the new independent theatre will be to show pictures suitable for family viewing, Mr. Graff emphasizes. No film which has been condemned by the Legion of Decency will be shown no matter how well done, or artistic. He will have no affiliation with any theatre circuit, nor any other theatre on the Peninsula.

CHILDREN'S PROGRAMS

He also plans to institute a series of double features consisting of motion pictures of educational value and entertainment, suitable for children, on Saturday afternoons, if enough parents sponsor ten programs of this type by signing up ahead of time. So far, through the Parents Club of Middle School, 345 parents have signified they would support his Saturday programs. However, a minimum of 400 sponsors must be obtained before he can start the first, and subsequent series. This proposal includes parents being willing to pick up their children immediately after any program. This is to prevent groups of small children being left unsupervised on the street outside the new theatre.

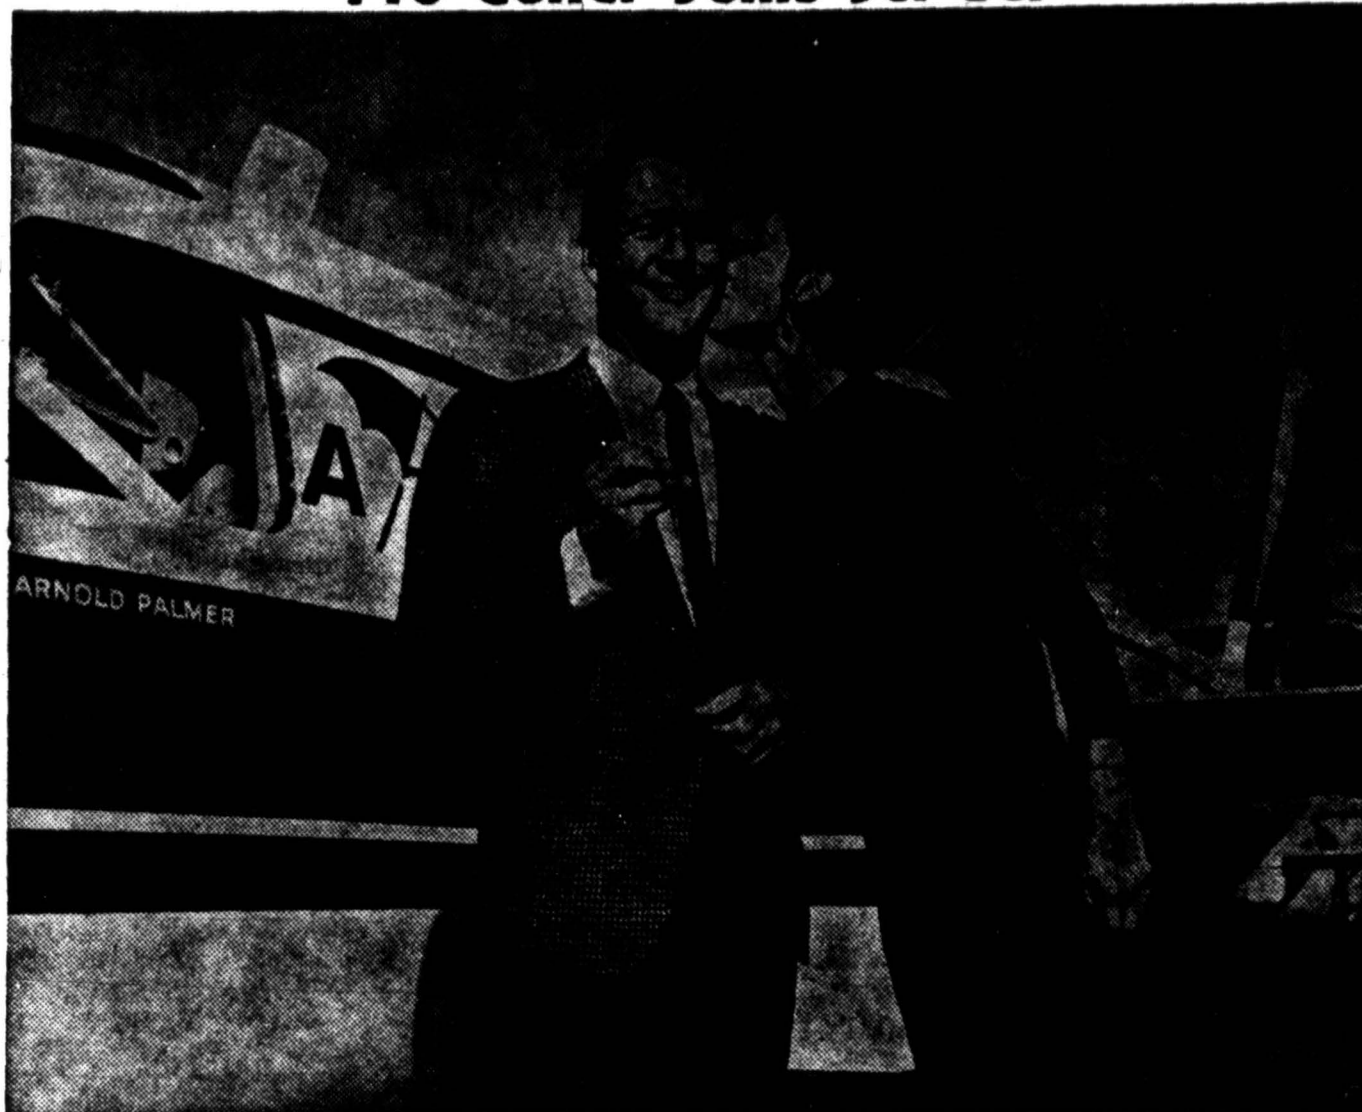

The films at Carmel's Village Theatre will be projected onto the screen by a Norelco Pulse-Lite projector, the second to be installed in any California theatre. This modern method of projection will assure theatre patrons of a constant flickerless image on the screen. It will be like looking at a photograph.

COMMUNITY USE

Tom Graff wants the community to use the modern facilities of his theatre. He says the theatre will be available to non-profit groups and conventions, also fund raising events, such as the benefit for All Saints' Day school which will be held in Carmel's Village Theatre the evening before it is opened to the public.

"We invite people to use our auditorium," Mr. Graff stresses. The cost of using the theatre will be $150 a day and will include all facilities except payment of a union projectionist.

Pro Golfer Joins Jet Set

Arnold Palmer became the first professional golfer to join the jet set when he took delivery on his new Jet Commander in New York City.

Palmer is currently the top money winner in tournament golf. He plans to use the jet, manufactured by Aero Commander-Bethany, one of the aircraft divisions of Rockwell-Standard Corporation, to meet tournament engagements and make connections with his various business enterprises scattered from New York to Los Angeles.

Piloting his own aircraft since 1958, Palmer has owned two piston-powered Aero Commanders and has averaged 400 hours flying time a year for the past two years.

After checking all other executive jets, Palmer said he took the Jet Commander because of its speed and safety. "I take my family with me on many of my trips," he said, "so I was looking for the safest airplane I could find."

Palmer thinks the time he saves in flying will be a big factor in winning tournaments. "By using the Jet Commander I will be able to fly to tourney sites in time to get in more extra practice before the tournament opens."

Palmer's red, white, and blue Jet Commander will carry his trademark, a multi-colored umbrella, with the letters AP.

A member of the "Arnie's Army," Miss Elaine Anderton, gives Palmer a congratulatory kiss after presenting him with the keys to the Jet Commander. Miss Anderton traveled from Mexico to make the presentation.

Janitorial work, utilities, use of the projector and the mikes, which are plugged into the stage, will be included in this fee.

RUSTIC ATMOSPHERE

The decor of the theatre's auditorium will be "a concept in shades of blue," Tom Graff reports. This will include the upholstery of new chairs, designed for comfort. The ceiling will be open-beamed, as will, too, the ceiling of the lobby which will have cobblestone-type floor created by Brad Bowman of Carmel Valley.

A rustic look will be achieved throughout the structure and in relation to this endeavor, wooden shakes are now being put on the exterior of the building.

The area facing on Seventh Street will be occupied by Dolores Bakery. Aage and Helene Knudsen, owners of the bakery, are planning a friendly atmosphere in their new and modern premises, also.

OPERATED BY CARMELITES

Mr. Graff is operating the theatre in partnership with two other owners of the building, Ed Dickenson of Carmel and Nicholas Pecora, a school principal in Fresno, who plans to live in Carmel when he retires. They have a 70-year lease on the land which is owned by Carmel Realty Company. Kipp Stewart of Carmel designed the theatre structure. George Wilcox of Carmel was architect for the project.

Tom Graff's theatre experience spans a period of 25 years. Between 1956-60 he was manager of the old Carmel Theatre, and the Golden Bough Theatre, both for two years. Since then he has been in the motion picture theatre business in San Jose and San Francisco. He has maintained a home here during the past ten years.

"Tell the people of the Peninsula they may use our facilities. What benefits the community, benefits me," Tom Graff says in the true spirit of a Carmelite.

When the Carmel Village Theatre opens on June 16, it will be a dream come true for him and the result of five and half years of careful planning.

Arts Commission Sets Free Events At Forest Theater

Mrs. Barbara Norberg presided over a Carmel Arts Commission meeting Wednesday at 5 p. m. She still wore the orchid presented to her by the Mayor's Committee during a luncheon discussion of fiftieth anniversary plans for Carmel. It was pointed out that after the Temilanka Octet concert group was paid the $600 allocated by the state, and the $400 from Carmel, other expenses were $226.13. Cash received was $250. In view of the fact that only 11 days notice was given to prepare for this concert, the commission felt the entire event was a success.

A summer schedule of activities for the Forest Theater has been partially set as follows:

June 12: Elinore Wallace's group of singers from the Defense Language School.

June 19: Mrs. Carl Welchner's Cherub Choir—Sound of Music.

July 3: Variety acts including the magician Bill Taylor who plans to "saw a lady in half".

They are also looking for a dog act to include in the variety event.

July 10: The Beyer Spring Trio with guest artists.

August 7: Probably a trio or quartet from Berkeley.

Also, early in August, a children's play, "Mr. Bunt," is planned in cooperation with the Carmel Arts Commission and the Carmel Unified School District recreation program.

It was brought out that Carmel's fiftieth anniversary celebration stickers are available now. These can be obtained at the city hall, Carmel Yarn Shop, Young Peoples Art Center in Sunset Center (Room 11), Little Import Fabric Shop, Straw Shop, Grimes House of Seven Seas and the American Federation of Arts. The donation is $1.00.

The arts commission urges all persons who are proud of Carmel to display these stickers.

CARMEL ROTARY

Dr. F. M. Glenn Willson, professor of government in the Adlai E. Stevenson College of the University of California at Santa Cruz, was guest speaker at Carmel Rotary Club's luncheon meeting Wednesday. He spoke on "The Rhodesian Crisis". Dr. Willson spent the last four years on the faculty of the University College of Rhodesia and Nyasaland and knows that area well. He is a graduate of Oxford University, England.

Heirloom Galleries Combine Antiques, Fine Reproductions

Open the Dutch door, bedecked with a basket of fresh flowers, to the Heirloom Galleries in the Esplanade Court, and you will find it impossible, unless you are an expert, to tell the antiques from the reproductions. On the other hand, it certainly is possible to succumb to the many attractive furnishings and accessories in the new shop which Eric and Georgette Lind have opened in the courtyard behind Crichton House at Mission and Seventh. Mr. Lind, who has been in business in Carmel for over ten years, has created a tasteful background for the pleasing variety of objects displayed at his new location.

A game table, gracefully designed with restrained carving, competes for attention with a baroque framed old French barometer—a Victorian dressing table, with a three-panel screen of elegant design combining brocade, mirrors and gold leaf—antique white frame—an Italian toile lavabo, with a handsome melodion which folds up. The shop also offers lovely old prints, beautifully framed, crystal, china and some very rare objets d'art. The antiques, it should be added, are very carefully restored.

Heirloom Galleries also features paintings by Lois Koerber, versatile local artist.
